

IKRAM RANA / THE AI BUSINESS OPS KIT

THE PROMPT PACK

Every prompt in the kit. Keep this file open next to your inbox.

1 voice profile / 4 inbox / 4 onboarding / 2 SOP / 5 follow-up

ikramrana.com

The three dials

Every prompt in this pack has three dials. Adjust them and any prompt becomes yours.

1 The context dial

The more specific the bracket fills, the better the output. "[My business: consulting]" gives generic drafts. "[My business: fractional CFO for construction companies doing $2-10M]" gives usable ones. One sentence of real context beats three paragraphs of vague ones.

2 The constraint dial

Word counts, tone words, and "do not" instructions are your quality controls. Outputs rambling? Tighten the word count. Sounding like a press release? Add "no corporate filler, write like a text to a colleague."

3 The voice dial

Append your Voice Profile to any prompt where the output will be seen by another human. Skip it for internal things like SOPs.

THE ONE RULE

If an output misses, don't rewrite the output. Fix the prompt and regenerate. You're training your template, not editing one email.

00. The Voice Profile

Run once, save forever. Paste the result wherever a prompt says [paste voice profile].

PROMPT 00 / VOICE PROFILE BUILDER

Analyze these writing samples and produce a "voice profile" I can paste into future prompts. Describe: my typical sentence length, formality level, how I open and close messages, words and phrases I use often, words I never use, and my overall tone in 3 adjectives. Keep it under 120 words and write it as instructions to an AI (for example: "Write in short sentences. Open with...").

Samples: [paste 3-5 emails that sound like you on a good day]

■ AFTER IT'S BUILT

Add a "never use" list (for most owners: leverage, synergy, circle back, "I hope this email finds you well," more than one exclamation mark). Then save it in your AI's custom instructions so it applies automatically.

Inbox prompts

PROMPT 01 / GENERAL REPLY

Draft a reply to this email. Key points I want to make: [your 5 words].

Tone: [direct / friendly / formal]. Under 150 words.

Sign off as [name].

Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

Email: [paste email]

PROMPT 02 / FOLLOW-UP REPLY

Draft a follow-up email to [name] about [topic]. This is my second follow-up. We last spoke about [context]. Keep it brief and friendly, and end with a clear question or next step. Under 100 words. Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

Inbox prompts, continued

PROMPT 03 / POLITE DECLINE

Draft a polite decline email for [describe the request].
Be respectful and leave the door open for future opportunities.
Under 80 words. Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

PROMPT 04 / MEETING CONFIRMATION

Draft a brief email confirming a meeting with [name] on [date]
at [time]. Include: the meeting link or location, and any prep needed. Warm but professional. Under 100 words.

■ SAVE THE WINNERS

The first time any of these produces a reply you'd happily send again, save that output as a Gmail canned response or Outlook Quick Part. The prompt writes the template; the template deletes the prompt.

Onboarding prompts

PROMPT 05 / EMAIL 1, THE WELCOME

Write a warm welcome email to a new client who just signed with me.
My business: [one sentence]. What I deliver: [one sentence].
Include: confirmation of what happens next, a timeline of first steps, and how to reach me. Under 200 words. No corporate filler.
Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

PROMPT 06 / EMAIL 2, THE KICKOFF PREP

Write an email to send 24 hours before a kickoff call with a new client. The call is on [date/time] via [Zoom/Google Meet].
Include: what we'll cover, how to prepare, and the meeting link.
Brief and energizing. Under 150 words.
Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

Onboarding prompts, continued

PROMPT 07 / EMAIL 3, THE POST-KICKOFF RECAP

Write a post-kickoff call summary email for a client meeting about [topic]. Include: a recap of what was discussed, the agreed next steps with owner names, and the timeline. Professional but human. Clear sections. Under 300 words.

Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

PROMPT 08 / EMAIL 4, THE WEEK 1 CHECK-IN

Write a week 1 check-in email to a client named [name]. Ask how they're finding the process, if they have any questions, and whether there's anything they need from me. Casual and brief. Under 100 words. Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

■ SHORTCUT

The finished, editable versions of all four emails are in your Bonus Templates file as swipe copy. Generate your own with these prompts, or adapt mine. Either way, save all four as templates named Onboarding 1 to 4.

SOP prompts

PROMPT 09 / BRAIN-DUMP TO SOP

Turn this brain dump into a clean, numbered SOP that someone who has never done this task could follow. Add a title and a 1-2 sentence description. Format each step clearly. Where information seems missing, insert a [FILL IN] placeholder rather than guessing.

Brain dump: [paste your messy notes or voice memo transcript]

PROMPT 10 / THE BRAIN-DUMP STARTER

Walk me through every step of your [process name] process from start to finish. Don't filter anything: include all the small decisions, checks, and communication steps.

■ HOW TO USE THE STARTER

Prompt 10 is a question for you, not for AI. Read it, then answer out loud into a voice memo. That transcript is your brain dump for Prompt 09. The pair takes any process from your head to a documented SOP in under 10 minutes.

Follow-up prompts

PROMPT 11 / TOUCH 1, SAME DAY OR 24H

Write a brief, warm follow-up message to [name] after [describe initial interaction]. Reference what we discussed. Include one clear next step or question. Under 80 words. Not salesy.
Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

PROMPT 12 / TOUCH 2, DAY 3, THE VALUE-ADD

Write a follow-up message to [name]. This is my second follow-up. First message was about [context]. Do not repeat the pitch. Add value: share one tip, resource, or insight relevant to what we discussed. End with a soft CTA. Under 100 words.
Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

PROMPT 13 / TOUCH 3, DAY 10

Write a short follow-up to [name]. Third touch. Extremely brief. Reference a relevant case study, win, or result I've had: [one line about the result]. One sentence offering to connect. Under 60 words.

Follow-up prompts, continued

PROMPT 14 / TOUCH 4, DAY 24, THE GRACEFUL LAST CALL

Write a "last follow-up" message to [name]. Acknowledge that they may not be the right fit or the timing may be wrong. Leave the door open. No pressure. Under 60 words.

Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

PROMPT 15 / TOUCH 5, DAY 54, THE RE-ENGAGEMENT

Write a re-engagement message to [name], who I last spoke to about 2 months ago. Ask how things are going with [topic]. No pitch. Just a genuine check-in. Under 50 words.

Write it the way I write: [paste voice profile]

■ THE CADENCE, FOR THE TRACKER

Touch 1: within 24h. Touch 2: +3 days. Touch 3: +7 days. Touch 4: +14 days. Touch 5: +30 days. Set each Next Follow-Up date the moment you send, and the table runs the machine for you.

QUICK INDEX

Sixteen prompts, one system

00 Voice Profile builder

01 General reply

02 Follow-up reply

03 Polite decline

04 Meeting confirmation

05 Welcome email

06 Kickoff prep

07 Post-kickoff recap

08 Week 1 check-in

09 Brain-dump to SOP

10 Brain-dump starter

11 Touch 1: warm recap

12 Touch 2: value-add

13 Touch 3: the win

14 Touch 4: graceful close

15 Touch 5: re-engage

WANT THESE SYSTEMS BUILT FOR YOU?

Free 20-minute strategy call: calendly.com/ikramrana15 / More at ikramrana.com